Product Description

Product Applications

In ventilation and air exchange, this fan is suitable for residential buildings, offices, shopping malls, and similar environments. It efficiently expels stale indoor air and introduces fresh air, thus improving indoor air quality. In industrial settings, it is ideal for factory workshops and warehouses, where it rapidly removes harmful gases and dust, creating a better working environment for employees.

For specific areas such as basements and underground parking garages, the axial duct fan addresses poor ventilation issues and prevents moisture and odor buildup. In dining establishments, it effectively removes kitchen smoke and odors, keeping the air fresh.

Additionally, in air conditioning systems, it can be used to enhance air circulation and improve AC efficiency. The axial duct fan is easy to install, operates stably, and generates low noise, making it an excellent choice for ventilation and air exchange across various applications.

【Energy-Efficient Ventilation】

This powerful inline duct fan speed of 1400 RPM can create the air flow of 200 CFM, Maximum power consumption is only 30W. AC motor & low noise effectively circulating air, quickly move vast amount of air to exhaust odors.

【Application Scenarios】

The DJT10-20 booster duct fan designed to quietly ventilate grow rooms, bathrooms, kitchens, workshops, basements, attics and etc, in order to boost airflow in HVAC systems.

【Easy to Install】

air exhaust fan's blade and the body are made of high quality plastic, for quick removal and easy maintenance.
