Frequently Asked Questions

Why choose us?

Since its establishment in 1997, we have adhered to a quality-centric approach and actively developed our proprietary brand, Zhongdian. We have successively passed ISO9001, CE, and national CCC mandatory product certifications and have obtained multiple utility model patents. The company ranks among the top in the industry in terms of comprehensive strength and brand influence.

What are our customized services?

We support non-standard design, including special voltage requirements, flange interfaces, custom logos, and more.

How do we guarantee the quality of our products?

We inspect every component before production to ensure flawless parts. Our employees strictly follow production processes, and each product undergoes a series of rigorous testing before leaving the factory. The packaging process stabilizes and seals the product securely.

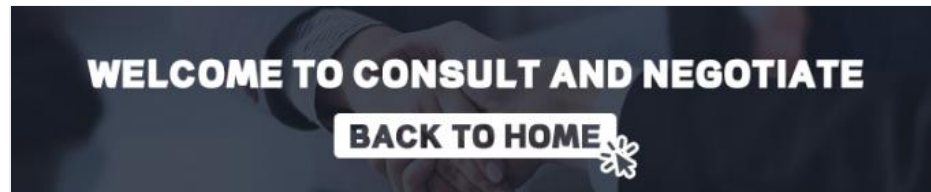

About after-sales service

- 1) 24-hour service hotline with professional technicians available to answer product questions

- 2) Provide relevant technical guidance based on customer usage
- 3) Regular follow-ups to understand product operation and share the latest maintenance technology

What's your MOQ?
